18 of Faculty to Attend Mo. Teachers Meet

Many S. T. C. Teachers Will Have Parts On Program of State Teachers Association At St. Louis Next Week.

At least eighteen members of the faculty will leave here next Tuesday and Wednesday for St. Louis to attend the sixty-fifth annual meeting of the Missouri State Teachers Association which opens there November 9 and runs through Saturday, November 12.

The faculty members who have announced their plans to attend the meeting are: President Lamkin, Mr. Cook, Miss Helwig, Mr. Eek, Miss Anthony, Miss Barnard, Mr. Colbert, Mr. Cooper, Miss Dow, Miss Dykes, Miss Margaret Franken, Miss Katherine Fronken, Mr. Foster, Mr. Phillips, Miss Scott, Dr. Saxman, Miss White, Miss DeLuce, Miss Criswell, Mr. Kinnaird, and Mr. Withington. Mr. Cook and Miss Helwig will go as delegates from the College Community Association.

Several of the faculty members here will take prominent parts in the convention activities. Mr. Cooper is a member of the legislative committee and Mr. Lamkin is chairman of the building committee. Miss Barnard is chairman of the department of deans of women, Miss Painter, who is on leave of absence this year, is chairman of the department of English, Mr. Caulfield, is vice-chairman of the department of geography, and Miss Dow is a vice-chairman of the department of foreign languages.

Thursday noon the five teachers colleges of Missouri will hold a joint luncheon in the Auditorium Hall of the City Club. Mr. Cooper of our faculty will be in charge of reservations of S. T. C. faculty members, former students, and alumni.

Many noted educators and distinguished speakers are on the program which promises to be one of the best ever given at a state teachers meeting.

2 Former Students in "Dent" Fraternity

Two former students of this College have been enrolled with the Xi Psi Phi Fraternity at the Kansas City-Western Dental College of Lincoln and Lee University, Kansas City, Missouri. They are Ralph L. Curfman, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Curfman, 548 West Second Street, and Harold B. Miller, son of Dr. and Mrs. Jesse W. Miller, 510 West First Street.

Harold's father is a dentist and president of the Board of Regents of the College. He is also past president of the Missouri State Dental Association and of the Northwest district association. Mr. Curfman is engaged in the manufacturing of automobile supplies.

Both of the young men have their names in athletic annuals in Maryville. Miller, class of '24 at Maryville High School was a football backfield man and end for four years, and played two years with the College team. He was guard on the basketball team for three years and was a middle distance man for the same number of years.

Curfman, class of '26 played center on the football team in 1925.

Pickering Boys, Elmo Girls Champs

Pickering and Elmo were the winners of the boys' and girls' basketball tournament held at the Maryville High School Gymnasium last Saturday.

Pickering won their final game from Guilford, 28 to 15. The Guilford boys appeared to have given their best against Quitman late in the afternoon. Guilford has defeated Pickering twice this year, but in the tournament were beaten out. The champions of last year were functioning nicely and got one of their forwards down for several "potshots".

Only three teams were entered in the girls' tournament, Elmo, Ravenwood and Burlington Junction. Burlington Junction drow a bye and Elmo won from Ravenwood 10 to 9. In the final game that night, the Burlington Junction girls did not stop "scrapping" for the game, but were badly beaten 34 to 3. The Kinnaird sisters, forwards for the Elmo team, worked together nicely and shot basket after basket.

Mr. Cook was called to Lincoln, Nebraska, Tuesday, on account of the illness of his brother Frank.

Former Teacher Here Now in Sideon, Syria

Miss Irene Tengarden, a former instructor in home economics at the College, has accepted a position at Sideon, Syria. She is working under the American Mission.

Miss Tengarden writes that her work will be that of instructing the Syrian girls in home-making. To give the girls an idea of better home life, the college has under construction six new practice houses for use of the home economics department.

The home economics sorority here, Kappa Omicron Phi, interested in Miss Tengarden and her work in Syria, sent a complete set of linen for one of the practice houses.

Plans Underway for Intra-mural Girls' Athletics

In Meeting Called Wednesday Dr. Saxman Explained Daily Recreation and Athletic Program For Girls of College.

Dr. Saxman called a meeting of all the girls of the College immediately after assembly Wednesday. She explained to them that the College affords daily recreation to the girls and it is in the shape of Intra-mural athletics.

Throughout the year there is an opportunity for play in seven different sports. In the fall, soccer and volleyball are played; in the winter, basketball and swimming are open to girls; and in the spring, track, tennis, and base ball are offered. For membership on each of these teams girls get five points. The classes compete between each other. From the teams a mythical varsity team is chosen. For offices on a team points are awarded. Captaincy in a class team or varsity team carries points. Girls are chosen for the varsity team according to sportsmanship which is shown and other interests. Points are awarded for life saving, posture, etc. Eighty one is the highest number of points that can be secured through out the year. The ten girls with the highest number of points at the end of the year are awarded white sweaters with a green M.

Emblems are awarded for all of the different sports. These emblems are symbolic of the various sports. The varsity team has been selected for soccer. Those on the varsity team are Margaret Quinlan, Margaret Putnam, Lois Dakan, Permetto Davis, Sarrahad Davis, Pauline Grier, Arlene Gabbert, Martha Brandt, Vera Pattig, Helen Slagle, Estelle Campbell, and Lois Carroll.

The volleyball tournament has started. All girls are urged to come out and help their class.

N.W. Mo. Teachers 90 Percent in Association

Enrollment is being rapidly completed for the Missouri State Teachers' Association, which meets November 10-12 in St. Louis. Of the 18,273 teachers in the district of Cape Girardeau, Warrensburg, Maryville, Rolla, Kirksville, and Springfield, 15,771 were enrolled on October 29. Reports of others enrolling since then have been sent in, but no statistics are available as yet. On October 29, the ranking of the districts as to percent of teachers enrolled showed Cape Girardeau ahead, with 91 percent of the teachers in her district members of the State Association, and Maryville, with 90.1, were next. Rolla, with 85.9, Kirksville, with 82.2, and Springfield, with 79 percent, brought the total enrollment up to 86.3 percent. In addition to these, 388 college teachers were members of the association.

Of the counties in the Maryville district, eight had reached a one-hundred percent enrollment: Andrew, Grundy, Holt, Nodaway, Gentry, Mercer, and Clinton. After the report came from the secretary, Mr. E. M. Carter, Worth County sent in word that it had reached one-hundred percent. Others have reported that within a few days they would reach the mark. The Maryville district has a total enrollment of 2,659, exclusive of college teachers. Only 289 were yet to enroll, according to the report of October 29.

Mr. Metzler will go to Bethany, Mo. next Friday evening to meet his extension class in General Sociology 78 and Social Psychology 171.

66 Dads Visit Sons in S.T.C. and See Game

First Annual Dad's Day Here Proves Big Success and Similar Day Will Be Held Again Next Year.

The first annual Dad's Day at the College was a success for those in charge of the affair. Sixty-six Dads were present for the lunch that was served at noon at Residence Hall.

The faculty members in charge of Dad's Day were Mr. Eek, Mr. Whiffen and Mr. Phillips. All the Dads were given badges on which was written "I am .....'s Dad." They met at 12 o'clock at the main building and then marched down to the Residence Hall where dinner was served.

During the lunch President Lamkin gave a short talk in which he invited the Dads back for the Dad's Day next year. It will be held as near Armistice Day as possible and the team which the Bears play will be the Warrensburg Mules. He said that the College is planning a day when the fathers of the girls of the College would be invited to a lunch. He said that plans were being made to keep a day for the mothers of girls of the College.

After Mr. Lamkin's address, Dr. Jesse Miller, president of the Board of Regents of the College was called upon to give a talk. After Dr. Miller's talk the fathers were asked to respond and several gave short addresses.

The Dads were shown around over the grounds in the afternoon before the game. During the game they sat in a body in the bleachers, a section being reserved for them. All Dads of players sat out in front of the bleachers with their son's number pinned on their backs.

Here are the dads who attended the lunch:

A. C. Dickman, Chula; Ed Adams, Barnard; H. L. Raines, Maryville; J. P. McCoy, Tarkio; Walter Rickman, Hopkins; H. B. Iba, Easton; Geo. W. Mix, Osborn; W. H. Hathaway, Grant City; R. K. Baker, Clearmont; John Richmond, Grant City; Edward Carroll, Grant City; W. A. Donk, Osborn; J. E. Talloch, Maryville; J. C. Roelofson, Barnard; D. W. Snoderly, Hopkins; O. K. Smith, Barnard; Henry N. Moore, Graham; W. B. Gex, Graham; J. C. Godbey, Maryville; D. Swinford, Arcoe.

C. B. Hornbuckle, Clearmont; Claud Hall, Hopkins; F. H. Barrett, Hopkins; H. M. Crane, Clearmont; G. H. Null, Maryville; T. Medsker, Guilford; G. B. Allen, Rea; J. O. Drago, Maryville; W. D. Jones, Hopkins; Edwin Masters, Maryville; O. P. Pettigrew, Bokeok; R. Barnhouse, Hatfield; J. W. Qualls, Maryville; C. E. Smith, Ridgeway; S. P. Young, Stewartsville; I. M. Ross, Clarinda, Ia.; W. H. Wiley, Clearmont; O. R. Israel, Ridgeway; Hal Carterson, Maryville; J. R. Evans, Maryville.

A. E. Houston, Pickering; Lon Monk, Burlington Junction; Harvey Smith, Bokeok; J. B. Cummins, Maryville; C. L. Wells, Maryville; Geo. A. Greeson, Maryville; C. J. Eckert, Maryville; F. M. Ryan, Maryville; A. B. Dowden, Maryville; H. R. Prather, Tarkio; Jesse Miller, Maryville; W. V. Mountjoy, Skidmore; Guy R. Mutz, Maryville.

Class in Astronomy Makes Observations

The class in astronomy met on the campus south of the College Monday evening to do some observation work. The study was limited entirely to the new moon. Some wind and a great many drifting clouds prevented perfect observation, but the clouds passed on. Some good views of the moon were possible with the telescope that was being used. The massive craters on the surface were visible and one of the main mountain ranges was plainly visible.

The Newman Club-house girls had a Halloween Dance last Friday night. Those present were: Pauline Hawks, Ludema Tannehill, Bessie Haskell, Mildred Sorrie, Alone Smith, Gertrude Sturm, Arlene Gabbert, Rebecca Boyd, Agnes Kennedy, Gladys Somerville, Donald Russell, Clara Wilson, Fred Smith, Russell McCoy, and Jim Somerville.

Social Science Club Hears Talk on Europe

Walter Allen, one of the twenty Y. M. C. A. boys who made a tour thru Europe last summer, told of his trip, to the Social Science Club Thursday night.

In England Mr. Allen found a great amount of unemployment. In his trip thru the slum districts of London he found social conditions very bad, even worse than in our own great cities. The women go to work in the morning and leave their children to beg on the streets.

The scars of war have largely been erased in many of the battle fields of France while in other fields they have not. In many of the fields the gasses used in the great war seems to have left the land unfit for cultivation. In northern and western French farm homes similar to those in the United States have replaced those destroyed by war, but in southern France the rebuilt homes are much like the old ones.

He found the German people friendly toward the United States. They think every one in America is rich because the tourists spend more lavishly. The great factories which formerly made munitions of war are now making fertilizer for the soil.

Poland with a population of thirty million people, or approximately one-fourth of that of the United States, has a standing army three times as large.

Mr. Allen says, that the Boy Scouts in Italy are trained to carry the gun and the bayonet. The boys at seventeen are forced to enter the army. This hinders higher education in Italy because it takes the boy of college age away to enter military service.

Mr. Sealeman Returns From Texas Meeting

He Helped To Handle Publicity For National Bankers' Convention.—Visited S. M. U. at Dallas Where Former S. T. C. President Lias.

Mr. Sealeman, director of information and instructor of journalism of the College, returned this week from Houston, Texas where he attended the national convention of the American Bankers' Association and assisted Curden Edwards, director of publicity for the Association. During his absence Miss Dykes taught the class in Journalism and edited the Northwest Missourian.

"All of the various meetings of the bankers' convention were covered by the stenotype system of reporting," said Mr. Sealeman, "and word-for-word transcripts were delivered with remarkable speed to the publicity department. These transcripts were closely followed and information of news values was taken from them and made available to newspaper reporters. By this method a newspaper could thoroughly cover the convention with one reporter; otherwise it would have taken at least a dozen to cover the various departmental sessions. Financial editors and reporters from the important cities of the United States attended the meeting. Almost five thousand bankers attended the convention."

Mr. Sealeman stopped off at Dallas, Texas and visited his uncle Dr. C. C. Sealeman, president of Southern Methodist University there. Dr. H. K. Taylor, former president of the College here is now director of extension in this university. He also visited Harold DeMoss in Houston. DeMoss is a former S. T. C. student and is a relative of Miss Anthony. He is now with the Federal Reserve Bank of Houston.

Pi Omega Pi's Have Party

The Pi Omega Pi fraternity had a Halloween party in the west library last Saturday night. Everything that goes to make a Halloween party a success was to be had at the party—ghosts, death chambers, apple bobbing, shooting the cat, fortune telling, pinning the tail on the cat, pin eating contest, chewing the string. Chilton Ross and Ludema Tannehill were on the program committee. Twenty-five people were present.

Evangelist Addresses Y. W. C. A.

At the Y. W. C. A. meeting, Tuesday, evangelist at the Baptist Church, talked on the subject, "Success Under Handicap." Mr. Stigall, who is directing the singing during the evangelistic meeting, sang "Angels Spiritual." About fifty were present at the meeting.

Next week there will be a joint meeting of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday evening, at seven-thirty, at the College.

Benedicts Win; Bearcats Gird for Mule Fight

Kansas Aggregation Upsets Dope and Trims Bearcats 6 to 0.—Lawrence to Take Men to Warrensburg Next Week.

And the Cat came back.

So says tradition of by-gone days and loyal S. T. C. supporters declare that history will repeat itself next Friday for the Bearcats are going to come back in the game at Warrensburg with the Mules. Despite numerous injuries Coaches Lawrence and Davis are planning to put their men through vigorous practice next week to put them in readiness for the hard grid tussle with the Central Missourians.

Several from here are planning to go to Warrensburg to attend the game and President Lamkin announced in Assembly this week that President Hendricks of Warrensburg would admit Maryville students as guests of his College. All from here who plan to attend the game are asked to get identification cards from Miss Fisher or Miss Hudson in office No. 203.

The Bearcats sprang a surprise on themselves and the student body, as well as on the followers of football in the state, by letting St. Benedicts College at Atchison, Kan. defeat them this week 6 to 0. Most of the Bearcat followers felt the Maryville team would win this game by a substantial margin but the Kansas eleven upset all dope and finished the battle six points in the lead. The football fans on the campus here don't know exactly what happened at Atchison Thursday but this is what the Kansas City Star said of the game:

Atchison, Kas., Nov. 3.—Coach Larry Quigley's St. Benedicts Collegians gave St. Benedicts grads here for homecoming festivities a real treat this afternoon by defeating the Maryville, Mo. State Teachers' team 6 to 0, in one of the most interesting battles on the local grid this season.

The lone counter came in the second quarter, when John Koepferich, beefy Benedictine tackle, blocked Smith's punt on the Maryville 2-yard line, recovered the ball, and fell across the goal line. Voets, attempting a goal kick from placement, was wide. Led by Captain Willoughby, Maryville repeatedly outlugged the Benedictines, and gained on punts, but failed dismally when scoring opportunities came. Four time the visitors carried the ball within the 10-yard line, twice to lose the chances on incomplete forward passes, once on a fumble and once held for downs. Two other threatening Maryville advances were halted when Walter Gorges, local end, intercepted a forward pass. The Maryville passing combination, Smith to Harris, was also a constant threat.

20th Century Club Entertain Teachers

The women of the College faculty and the wives of the men on the faculty, together with the women instructors and the wives of the men instructors in the high school and the grades of the Public School, were guests Saturday afternoon, Oct. 29, of the Twentieth Century Club. The party, which was a Halloween frolic, was given at the Elks' Club.

The guests were met at the door by a witch and then escorted by other witches to the bull-room upstairs. Here they were face to face with a live owl that hooted from a tree and with several black cats that kept things lively. When the owl and the cats had played their parts and the enchantment was broken, they took their own forms and the guests recognized five of the Girl Scouts. The gypsy fortune-teller, impersonated by Miss Rose Schumacher, was a popular part of the entertainment.

Mrs. Silas M. Stanley and Mrs. Kenneth Fordyce, better known at the College as Margaret Louise Hosmer and Ruth Miller, gave a delightful little play, "The Girl of 1750 and the Girl of 1927." The girl of 1750, shy, sweet, demure, who daintily tripped a few steps of the minuet, was horribly shocked at her great-granddaughter, bold, bizarre, slangy, who romped through the Charleston.

After the program and games, the guests were taken to the dining-room, where members of the tourist department of the club, dressed in Halloween costumes, served sandwiches, doughnuts, gingerbread, cider, and candies.

Health Department Gets Record Cards

The department of health and physical education has just received the new cards for recording the health of the person examined. On the face of the card is a number of carefully worded questions. The questions when answered will give to the examiner a complete family and health history of the person to be examined. The back of the card is for recording the medical examination. It takes in consideration the height, weight, posture, condition of skin, heart, lungs, special senses, and the blood pressure of the person examined. The information obtained will be considered confidential.

Debate Leaders of S.T.C. to Go to K.C. Meeting

Mr. Wells, Chairman of Inter-Collegiate Debating, and Miss Criswell, Coach, To Attend Mo.-Kan. Debate Parley.

Mr. Wells, who is chairman of Inter-Collegiate Debating for the College, and Miss Criswell, who teaches debating, will go to Kansas City the end of the week to attend a meeting of the Missouri-Kansas Debating Association. This is a meeting of all coaches of debate in the two states.

The program of this meeting includes an address of welcome from Mr. Albert I. Beach, Mayor of Kansas City, Missouri; a round table discussion; led by Mr. Cliff Cornwell, from Kirksville, on the question: "How much and what kind of help should the instructor give the debate squad?" a discussion by Mr. H. B. Seiermeyer, of the Kansas State Agricultural College on the Oxford Plan of Debate; a discussion of the amount of attention which should be paid to the rhetoric of argument, by M. L. J. Graham, of Culver-Stocker College; a speech on "New Experiments in Debate," by George R. R. Pfaff, of the Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia; "Essentials in Judging a Debate," by P. Caspar Harvey, William Jewell College; a discussion of the question: "Should the negative propose the plan?" by Mr. J. H. Lawrence, College of Emporia; "Financing of Debates," by Leroy Allen, Southwestern College; and a discussion of the evaluation of evidence and persuasion, by Mr. Frank L. McCluer, Westminster College.

Teachers Give Party for Primary Pupils

The practice teachers of the demonstration school entertained the first, second, and third grades with a surprise Halloween party. The teachers had decorated the room before the children arrived. They were told to bring costumes and masks. Paper bags were used for masks.

When the time came the pupils were allowed to slip out of the room and dress. There were many scary costumes, such as clowns, witches, ghosts, etc. With this make up it was impossible to recognize many of the children and identification furnished part of the fun for the classmates. A few simple games appropriate to the occasion were played.

A Halloween story was told by Miss Lois Dakan, one of the practice teachers.

The refreshments were: cider, sandwiches, apples, corn candy and raisins. The names of the children attending are: first grade, Winston Wells, Mary Ruth New, Harold Healy, Mary Louise Hartness, Leta Pearl McArthur, Josephine Powell, Verlie Higgins; second grade, Claude Healy, Raymond Barton, Robert Brues, Robert Powell, John Hartness, Archie Higgins.

Third grade: Minnie Caldwell, Jean Myers, Francis Porter, Marjorie Thorpe, Edna Hale, Vivian Jean and Evangeline Scott.

The names of the hostesses are: Rebecca Boyd, Velma Holton, Malena McClary, Lois Dakan, Mrs. Amelia Lee, Lucille Snyder, Roberta Best, Dossie McElvay, Katharine Schille, Emma Dalby, Mildred Ottinger, Pauline Hauck, and Chloe Van Hasler.

Miss Hettie Anthony will leave next Monday night for St. Louis where she will attend the Missouri State Teachers Association and a meeting of the Vocational Home Economics people of the state. She is on the executive committee of the latter.

Bears' Victory Gives Bearcat Cellar Ranking

Springfield Eleven Proves Too Much For Green and White Gridsters and Ozark Team Wins 15 to 6 Victory.

And still the Bearcats crouch, cold and wet in the damp, clammy cellar. That is as far as the standing in the M. I. A. conference race.

Last week the Springfield Bears were in the basement with the Bearcats, but they came to Maryville and after the ensuing conflict, returned home with a 500 per cent standing and the Bearcat pelt tucked away under their belt. The score was Springfield 15, Maryville 6.

Just because we have lost two conference tilts, is that any reason why we should get down-hearted? It is not! We still have two more conference games, and with the team showing greater improvement all the time, there is a good chance for the Bearcats to break even. The Warrensburg Mules beat the Bears 20 to 0, but they never could have won from the Bears of last week by the same score. Kirksville won from Warrensburg 19 to 13 which shows that the Mules aren't invincible. Last week Kirksville played Emporia Teachers at Kansas City and were downed 16 to 13.

Last Friday the Dads of the men of the College assembled to watch the Bearcats play. A section was reserved for them in the bleachers and one for the Pep Squads. The Dads of players sat out in front with a sign fastened on their back "My boy is No. ...."

The game opened with Bill Smith kicking off for Maryville. In the first quarter, a Springfield pass, Stark to Wise, made 20 yards. Then Maryville was penalized 5 yards, but they held on their own 22 yard line and took the ball on downs. Maryville punted to midfield, and with Abbott carrying the brunt of the attack the Bears took the ball to the Maryville 11 yard line. The quarter ended with the ball there. On the second play of the quarter, Abbott took the ball over for a touchdown for Springfield. On the try for point, the Maryville line broke through and rushed Abbott who missed the goal posts.

In the second half Maryville came back and rushed the Springfield team off their feet, with Bill Smith, Daniels and Captain Willoughby going through the line in off tackle smashes. Springfield held and Smith punted to the Springfield 3-yard line. Abbott, who boots the ball with his left foot, was rushed when he attempted to kick from behind his goal line. The whole right side of the Maryville line broke through and blocked the punt. Higdon, substitute left guard fell on the ball for a touchdown. Smith, after taking some time for the try for point missed the goal posts and the score was tied at 6-all.

It looked as though Maryville would score shortly after the next kickoff when Springfield was penalized 25 yards for clipping and Willoughby returned a punt to the Springfield 30 yard line. With it fourth down and about a foot to go, Willoughby elected to try a line smash but it failed and Springfield had the ball near midfield. From then on they assumed the offensive.

A pass, Stark to Austin, gained 14 yards and then Springfield made three more and the ball was on Maryville's 14 yard line. Abbott then stepped back and kicked a goal from placement on the 25 yard line. The score was Springfield, 9; Maryville, 6.

After the next kickoff, Maryville was penalized fifteen yards and then punted. Springfield punted back and Maryville fumbled. Springfield recovered the ball on Maryville's 15 yard line. Stark took the ball and made the fifteen yards on a right end run. His try for goal failed and the score was Springfield, 15; Maryville, 6.

There were four minutes to play and Maryville punted twice, hoping for (Continued on Page 4)

Mrs. Perrin is Ill Taken to Oklahoma

Mrs. Perrin, Assistant Dean of Women, who has been ill for the past two weeks, left St. Francis Hospital, November 2, for Tyrone, Oklahoma, where she will be under the care of Dr. D. B. MacLeod and her daughter, Mrs. MacLeod.

Lona Perrin, of St. Paul, Minnesota, who with Dr. and Mrs. MacLeod was called here by the illness of his mother, left also on November 2 for his home.

AT OHIO WESLEYAN

"Students attending Ohio Wesleyan this year will have to walk the straight and narrow path," says the Echo Weekly, published by the State Teachers College of Milwaukee, Wis. It says further that co-eds will not be permitted to smoke and to dance unless they have the formal authorization of their parents.

Use of automobiles is also forbidden to them. "Those students marrying during the academic year will be required to withdraw from school," says the same paper.

Do you say rather rigid rules? Well its only by knowing of some of the requirements of other State Teachers Colleges, that helps us to appreciate our own dear old S. T. C.

INFORMAL EDUCATION

By Glenn Frank

American education is suffering from over-organization and over-formalization.

These two facts are raising the expense and reducing the efficiency of our educational system.

If we conquer these two sins of the school room we might achieve, at one stroke, two highly desirable results—we might reduce the cost and raise the character of American education.

These twin tendencies to over-organization and over-formalization flow naturally from the more or less unconsciously held notion that whether or not a student "gets educated" depends upon the efficiency of the school rather than upon the eagerness of the student.

Looking upon students as so much passive raw material to be molded and manufactured into educated men and women, we reach out after an encyclopedic sweep of subject matter and a factory-like standardization of method. But genuine education never has and never will come out of such over-organized and over-formalized mind-factories, for education, like religion, is caught, not taught.

Genuine education flees from the touch of super-organizer. Frederic Harrison, from whom I quoted yesterday, stated the eternal informality of education in a manner that defies improvement.

"We ask too much of education," he said, "we make too much of it, we monstrously over-organize it, and we cruelly overload it. Education can do for us infinitely less than we have come to expect; and what little it can do is on the condition that it be left simple, natural and free.

"All that education can really give is this: It can supply the opportunities of self-culture; it can bring the budding mind into contact with a formed and mature mind; it can show him a superior intellect in the act of collecting and distilling his materials; it can suggest, explain, correct, and guide in a very general and occasional way; but it cannot teach vigorous thinking, or thrust coherent knowledge into a raw mind.

"The ideal education would be such that a body of students, attracted by a great love of knowledge, should gather from time to time round some great teacher, till they had touch of his informing mind, grasped his method of thought, felt inspiration from his typical ideas, asked of him questions, and answered his questions to them; and then freely went their own way to work out for themselves his suggestions, and left him free to think, to observe, experiment, or write, until he was again ready to teach."

In the American adventure of educating everybody, we cannot copy this ideal course, but the value of the educational developments of the next fifty years will, in my judgment, be measured by the degree to which they approach this ideal of informality.

Kappa Omicron Phi is taking up the study and practice of the Robert's Rules of Order at each of its business meetings. Their intentions are to get the organization on a strictly parliamentary basis.

Business World Seeks Leaders from College

Big Corporations Realize They Must Recruit From College Classes, Says Albert W. Atwood.

Discussion still rages as to whether college men are any good in business, and statements of elderly business men in the negative find a welcome in magazines and newspapers.

It is true that the college man has his faults. Without being especially elderly, I have pointed out several of these defects in previous articles. The detailed question of the best training for business is, however, quite apart from the subject of this present article.

To talk about corporations not wanting college men or of there being no opportunity for college men in business is simply fanciful. Business may not want college men, but it has to take them because, speaking broadly, such a large proportion of all the flower of youth goes to college that it can't get anything else.

The big corporations have recognized this situation for a number of years, and now regularly and directly recruit their junior officer material from graduating classes, just as the army did during the war. An unusually fine type of senior in one of the better known universities may have as many as fifty offers; a most uneconomical arrangement, but proving at least that business is reconciled to accepting college men.

Originally in this country nearly all college graduates became ministers, lawyers, doctors or teachers. Now there are many professions which did not formerly exist, and in addition, a great general group roughly known as "business" into which college men graduate in increasing numbers.

A steadily rising proportion of each year's class enters business. This means, of course, that each year finds more of the leaders of business who are themselves college bred, and it means that they will pick their junior material more than in earlier days from the same type.

Industry and commerce have become too broad and have too many divisions and specialties for potential leaders to be secured in any other way. It is not a perfect system, but it is absolutely the only simple method of training leaders in sufficient volume for the present complex and extensive requirements. Not only have new professions arisen, but the old professions have advanced their academic requirements.

It is valid to criticize the college method and resulting product, but to say that business will have none of college men is something like inveighing against the wind and tide, or telling the sun to stand still. It is wiser to work with great currents than foolishly to defy them.

Homar Richmond, Chilton Ross and Lucille Qualls went to St. Joseph last Friday evening and started the work on the Tower. The work consisted of making plans and submitting pictures and sketches for engraving plates for the Tower. Everyone is urged to have his picture taken for the Tower as soon as possible.

Mildred Davis, a former student of S. T. C., is teacher of Home Economics at Zealand, Michigan, which is a Holland Dutch settlement. She says that all of the teachers there are from Holland except herself and one other. The study of the people and customs is very interesting.

The Pi Omega Pi's will have an overall and apron party in the west library next Saturday night. All commerce majors and minors are invited. A program committee was appointed at the last meeting. Members of it are Chilton Ross and Ludea Tannehill.

High School Notes

Martinsville High School

The vocational agriculture students of Harrison County are planning to attend the Kansas City Royal Stock Show to be held in Kansas City, November 14 and 15.

The Royal will hold many attractions for the agriculture students of the United States. One of the special features every boy wants to see is the big horse show on the night of November 15. Other attractions are a trip through the stockyard, a trip through the packing plant, a tour of the city and best of all, a large banquet at the Hotel Baltimore.

The boys of the Mooresville high school will probably go to Kansas City in a large truck or bus.
Many of the boys from Martinsville attended the Royal last year and are planning on attending this year. They say that the trip is well worth their money and time and that the horse show alone was worth the price. This year the boys are requested to make a report to their instructor as to what they see along the road in regard to soil formation and farming conditions. Other reports will also be given.

Martinsville annual school fair was held at the school building and campus on Friday, October 23. The day was ideal for such an event and the fair was a decided success.

At ten o'clock the crowd began to assemble and the morning was extremely well spent in examining the many and varied entries to the home economics and agriculture exhibits.

The seniors and sophomores general stand furnished an appetizing meal at noon, while the juniors novelty stand, the freshman's popcorn and candy stand, and the trap shooting contests all added to the appearance and festivity of the carnival.

At one-thirty in the afternoon a miscellaneous program which ended in a one act play was well presented by the high school land grade students.

At four o'clock came the drawing card of the day,—the basket ball games matched with the boys and girls teams of Eagleville High School. The games were fast, clean, close and well played and the home teams justified the spectators faith in them by keeping the bacon and sending the visiting teams home carrying the rind, which, although not very polite, was nevertheless very satisfying to all Martinsvilleites.

Helena High School

A musical program was given October 27. The large attendance was much appreciated. The numbers given were as follows: orchestra; solo by Miss Tipton; "Venetian Love Song" by Nevin, and "Ballet from Rosemund" by Ganz; boys quartet, "Gypsy Love Song"; glee club, "The Lost Chord"; mixed quartet, "Come Join the Dance"; first room, "Folk Dance"; glee club, "Shubert's Serenade"; boys quartet, "Two Magpies"; play, "Going to the Movies" by the 8th grade room; mixed quartet, "Dawn"; orchestra.

The boys basket ball team played Cosby, at Cosby, October 10. The score was close, 7 to 6 in favor of Helena. The boys basket ball team will play Rosendale, at Rosendale, Friday, November 4.

The grade teachers will attend the Demonstration meeting at Cosby, Friday, November 4. Miss Parman will teach phonics and "D" reading.

The eighth grade made health posters. These were judged by Miss Parman, Miss Beals and Miss Tipton. Prizes were awarded as follows: First prize, Lloyd Thomann; second prize, Sterling Ott; third prize, Horace Stuckler.

Work on a cantati in glee club will be started next week. The teacher of music, Miss Tipton will be the director.

Mooresville High School

The basket ball season in Mooresville closed Saturday, October 29, with a county tournament held in Chillicothe High School Auditorium. The Mooresville teams entered the tournament. The boy's team was defeated in its first game, placing them in class "B". They played their second with Dawn and were defeated in this attempt. The girls, however, had something choice to relate when they returned home. They played their first game with Dawn; the score being 31 to 5 in favor of Mooresville. By winning this game our girls were placed in the finals. Here they played against Ludlow, the score being 12 to 2 in favor of Mooresville. Once more our girls gave us every reason to be proud of them, not only because they won the silver cup, but because they demonstrated clean sportsmanship.

Bethany High School

The results of the last three games of the Bethany high school football team are:

Gallatin, 14; Bethany, 14, there.
King City, 0; Bethany, 20, here.
Hopkins, 0; Bethany 32, here.

Bethany outplayed both King City and Hopkins. In the King City game, Bethany gained 359 yards from scrimmage to 59 for King City. Travis, ground gaining star for Bethany, advanced the ball almost three times as far as did the entire King City team, with 143 yards. King City's customary aerial attack was not effective; but Bethany's off tackle and end plays could not be stopped. King City is Bethany's fourth victim this year. Bethany is undefeated.

Bethany entirely outplayed Hopkins throughout the game although second string men were used during the first half. Bethany is still undefeated with Hopkins as the fifth victim.

Amity High School

The Halloween party given Friday night by the Junior class for the Faculty and high school was quite a success. Everyone was masked and played his part well. After a half hour's revel in the study hall the guests were led to the girls' rest room which was appropriately decorated. The first entertainment there was to guess who the individuals were. Ruth and John Stratton were the only ones not identified. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing games and fortune telling. Refreshments consisting of cider and doughnuts were served.

The boys court was wired last week so both teams are benefiting from night practice. Amity had two victories over Osborn Friday. The boys' score was 2 to 10 and the girls' was 9 to 2.

Clearmont High School

The first number of the Home Talent Lyceum Course was given Friday night, October 28. There was a good crowd present and everyone seemed well pleased. The course has taken in $91.50 thus far.

The basket ball boys went to Gaynor Wednesday, October 26. But Gaynor beat them 19 to 12. They also attended the county tournament which was held at Maryville, Saturday, October 29. They played Harmony and were beaten 11 to 12.

Miss Davison and Dr. Fryer, from Maryville, were over last week giving physical examinations. In most cases the pupils show a general improvement since the last test.

A new cement walk, which was much needed is being made. It extends from the schoolhouse to the highway.

Princeton High School

The Princeton high school students who played in the orchestra certainly enjoyed themselves and wish to thank the College and Association for the fine hospitality and good time.

The school has made advancements this year, has added a commercial department and quite a good many new library books and other equipment in general. Music is being offered thru-out the grades this year. A piano has been added to aid in carrying out this program. A change has been made in the plan of the program of studies. The students now have a forty minute recitation period which is followed by a twenty minute supervised study period. In this study period, advanced work is done for the subject in which the class has just recited. This plan is working very well so far and will probably reduce the number of failures.

The Princeton athletic teams, though made up of mostly new material, are holding their own and winning their share of their games.

Princeton has a real pep squad with costumes this year, also a high school band and orchestra, boys glee club, girls glee club, speaking club, science club, an organization similar to "Hi Y", and girls reserve. There are also about 100 boys in a military department in connection with physical education. They are organized in companies with flags and officers' platoons, and use the Legion rifles. The training is given especially to help boys to handle rifles in response to command. The school also has an organization of Boy Scouts.

Devotional is held on Mondays, and a chapter of the Bible is read every morning.

Amity High School

James Nichols entertained the senior class and faculty at his home last Monday evening. A most enjoyable evening was spent with contests and Rook playing. Refreshments consisting of fruit salad, cake, and punch were served.

Monday was a busy day for the seniors—at least they accomplished a great deal. They placed their order for rings, pins, and commencement invitations.

Amity played Union Star on the home courts Friday and suffered two defeats. The boys score was 25 to 18 and the girls 4 to 2.

Friday's sale of tickets determined the carnival queen. She is Irene Swopes, a junior. Miss Swopes will be crowned at the athletic carnival to be held in the near future.

The debaters have begun studying. It is hoped this early study will mean some victories.

Clearmont High School

An "All School" Halloween party was given Thursday, October 27th. All came masked and had an enjoyable time. The spooks were there.

Clearmont presented the first number of a Lyceum course Friday night, October 28. The program was miscellaneous, consisting of one act play, "The Ghost Story," songs, reading and drill. Halloween was carried out in some of the numbers. The date and character of the other two numbers will be announced later. This home talent Lyceum, is being put on to raise funds to buy a new piano for the school.

Mercer High School

The Mercer High School Carnival was a great success. There were over three hundred and fifty people present and the school cleared about seventy dollars. This money will be used to help pay for the new folding chairs and other equipment. Every one had an excellent time and many said that it was the best carnival that Mercer ever had.

We wish to thank the patrons for their cooperation and interest in the carnival.

Mercer made an enviable record Saturday by winning a double header from Powersville. The girls started in the lead and held it all through the game, the score was never threatened by Powersville. When the game closed the score stood 20 to 9. The girls showed great improvement over their last game.

The boys' game was a very fast and interesting one. The Powersville team was one of the two teams which had defeated the Mercer boys. The score was never standing—it was always weaving back and forth. When the first half was up the score stood 14 to 12 in favor of Mercer. When the third Y", and girls reserve. There are also about 100 boys in a military department in connection with physical education. They are organized in companies with flags and officers' platoons, and use the Legion rifles. The training is given especially to help boys to handle rifles in response to command. The school also has an organization of Boy Scouts.

High School Assembly was held in the home room last Friday at 11 o'clock.

The following program was arranged and presented by the freshmen of the high school department: "Proof of a College Education" by Elsie Dumas; violin solo by Wilma Lewis; stunt by the upperclassmen; reading by Lucille Leeson; piano solo by Virginia Hardisty; reading by Reatha Faye Logan; and "Ann Mater" by all.

High School Notes

Spickard High School

Spickard High School students are indeed glad to have this privilege of letting other schools know of their work. The school as if they are more or less "tardy" to Maryville, for it was from the College there that their instructors, Supt. I. H. Young, Prin. C. Nelson, and Mrs. Fannie B. Young, assistant, received their education.

This year Spickard school is composed of approximately 200 students who work together for the same goal and who have accomplished much this school year.

A journalistic club has been organized under the following leadership: safety-valve, Mrs. Young; English department and editor in chief, Helen Ruthe Kirke; associate editors, Lucille Coon and Edna Gosc. Mr. Stein, editor of the Grundy County Gazette, the local paper, has given a certain section of the paper to be filled with school news and activities each week. This section of the paper has been christened the "Spickard Hot Shot."

The board of education has kindly presented to the school 24 volumes of the New International Encyclopedia, besides a goodly number of approved novels, historical narratives, guidance books, etc.

The recently purchased stereopticon forms a source of interest for both young and old. On Wednesday of each week a picture lecture is given with a short explanation of each picture by the instructor. Last week pictures of notables and castles were shown in connection with European History. This week complete stories of birds and of the honey bee were given. New slides are furnished each week by the State Visiculture Department for the low transportation charges.

As an incentive to better work among students in general, an honor roll has been founded on which names of persons averaging "8" in all subjects are posted. Attitude toward work, conduct in and around the athletic field, and general behavior among associates is considered in compiling this list. Those reaching the goal the first six weeks include: Seniors, Gerald Ehlitely, Orel Smith, Marie Dickerson, and Clara May Shantzler; Juniors, Juanita Morris; Sophomores, Dorothy Lee Dickerson, Nadine Wooderson, Phillip Wild, and Harold Eads; Freshmen, Nola Moore, Charline Whiteley, Russel Ellis, and Evelyn Oatman. An honorable mention roll was also compiled of those who "almost, but not quite" made the honor roll.

In connection with the Third Annual Corn and Poultry Show, a School Fair is being sponsored by Supt. I. H. Young. This was staged October 28-29. Last year this was tried and proved a big success. This year it was made bigger than ever before. All surrounding rural schools are invited to bring exhibits or apply for a booth. Valuable prizes of various sorts were given to the best, and second, in every line of school work.

Adrian High School

Adrian High School has introduced into its system an Opportunity Room. The operation of an Opportunity Room in replacement for the old excuse system for absentees and tardies is based upon the assumptions:

1. That there are conditions which at times make it necessary for pupils to be absent or tardy.
2. That the person who is absent or tardy loses out on some of the work of the class and should have an opportunity to catch up on the work missed.
3. That when the pupils are themselves responsible for their absences and tardies they will be less likely to be absent or tardy without reason.

The plan under which our Opportunity Room is working is as follows:

1. When a person is absent from a session of school he takes an examination over the work covered in the class missed. The opportunity for these examinations is given each Monday at 4 p. m. in the study hall. The teachers from the various classes missed prepare the questions covering the work missed and grade the papers for their own classes.

2. A pupil who is tardy to school, any class, or study hall during the day is requested to take advantage of the opportunity to make up for that tardy on the same day it is made by spending one period of 30 minutes (4 to 4:30) in the Opportunity Room.

3. If a pupil is absent from a class or study hall without previously being excused and is in school during other periods of the day, the pupil is requested to make use of the Opportunity Room for two periods of 30 minutes (consecutive days, 4 to 4:30) and on one of the days takes an examination over the work missed.

4. Each absence or tardy is to be redeemed separately.

Any classroom teacher may require of any pupil that unsatisfactory work be made up during time of Opportunity Room.

6. The teacher in charge of the Opportunity Room will give the pupil a card indicating the date and time spent working in the room.

Rock Port High School

There are fifty-four students enrolled in the Department of Commerce this year.

The Honor Roll Students in Commerce for the first six weeks period are: Seniors: Kate Clark, Phyllis Deatz, Norma Klump, Hope Langfeldt, Isabel McDaniel, Mildred Rhodes, Earl Sons, A. J. Taylor.

Juniors: Lois Greenley, Lois Hess, Mary Margaret James, Margaret Kish, Marion Kish, Alfred Klump, Ida Beth Newlon.

Sophomores: Eulah Breazile, Stanley Deatz, Cora Easley, John Moody, Ray Schmidt.

All members of the Commerce Department are mightily well pleased by having Mary Margaret James chosen as one of the three students who represented Rock Port High School in the District High School Orchestra at Maryville. Mary Margaret, as she is known here, is one who believes in doing all things well.

The honor roll, consisting of all students who have made at least an "8" in all subjects has been announced. The following students have attained such an honor:

Seniors: Isabel McDaniel, Norma Klump.

Juniors: Marion Kish, Ida Beth Newlon.

Sophomores: Eulah Breazile, Virginia Shadwick, Helen Cheesman, Cora Easley, and Wilma Silence.

Freshmen: Irene Bowden, Walter Kish, and James Seaman.

The Rock Port High School freshmen entertained the sophomores at a Halloween party Saturday, October 29 at the home of Mrs. Mabel Newlon.

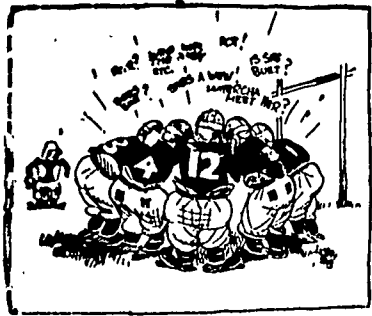

The football game between Rock Port and Fairfax was one of close competition, the score being Rock Port 6; Fairfax 0.

During the course of a year, Rock Port students from all branches of activities are called to Maryville to participate in certain events. The people of Maryville have always been very courteous to our students and the student body expresses its appreciation of this treatment.

Edgerton High School

The classes of Edgerton High School met for the purpose of electing new officers. They are as follows:

Senior class, Colvert Sodeman, president; Julian Wasouer, vice-president; E. R. Tanner, secretary and treasurer; Russell Harrison, sergeant-at-arms; Julian Wasouer, cabinet member.

Junior class: A. T. Baber, president; Loraine Jones, vice-president; D. L. Birt, secretary and treasurer; Rhodora Denny, cabinet member.

Freshman class: Nelson Kerr, president; Charles Sodeman, vice-president; P. W. Pulliam, secretary and treasurer; L. B. Carpenter, cabinet member.

Eighth grade: Dixie Elliot, president; Noland Boydston, vice-president; Albert Newman, secretary; Marie Denny, treasurer.

Seventh grade: Virginia Harrison, president; Kathleen Newman, secretary; Doris Kerr, vice-president; Lois Winnians, treasurer.

Maitland High School

The high school girls' glee club gave a program during the last hour of the day Friday afternoon in the English room. Mona Maxwell, president of the club, presided. The program opened with a group of pep songs, sung by all the members, after which the following numbers were given: piano duet, "The Approach of Spring," (Lindsay), Gladys Wiley and Lucy Boring; "Little Orphan Annie," (Thomas) Lucille Mitchell and Eva Larsson; reading, "Jimmy Butler and the Owl," Rachel Nevins; paper, The Life of Saeu Saens, Irene Gibson; best known composition, "Danse Macabre" on violin, with an appreciation of it, Lorene Warner; saxophone solo, "Polish Dance," (Scharioenka) Helen Morford. The English room was very prettily decorated for the occasion with potted plants and autumn leaves. In addition to the members of the club the guests included all of the high school girls not members of the club and the high school faculty.

The Lindberghs and Eurekaans will unite in giving the first literary program of the year. The entertainment being planned will be presented late in the forenoon of Armistice Day, Nov. 11. The program will consist of speaking and music in keeping with the occasion.

The Maitland basketball team played New Point here last Friday night. The home boys put up a good fight although they were defeated by a score of 16 to 6.

Friday morning captains were appointed for four girls volleyball teams. These teams will be named in a few days and practice will start toward a volleyball tournament.

Chillicothe High School

Chillicothe High School is offering to its pupils the most varied and complete musical program in its history. This work is under the direction of Mr. J. M. Dillinger, a man who needs no introduction into Northwest Missouri musical circles. At present, the program includes classes in band, orchestra, violin, and sight-singing. Later, glee clubs and a mixed chorus will be organized. It is also the aim of this department to present an operetta sometime during the year.

The band which meets one period a day is open to students who have had no previous training. The orchestra, also meeting one period daily, admits slightly more advanced students. The violin class, meeting once a week, is open to both beginning and advanced students. The sight-singing class meets once a day and admits students of the ninth, tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades. Its course includes voice culture, sight-singing, ear-training, and singing. Classes of this type extend through the grade schools also. In each of the ward schools, rhythm orchestras are being provided for the first and second grades.

With such a program, the music department of Chillicothe High School will undoubtedly become one of the most popular and most productive ones in the school.

With the task of publishing the "Crosses," Chillicothe High School yearbook, the members of the junior class is concentrating its efforts upon the question of finance. As a result a cast chosen from the class and the Dramatic-Art Club are working upon the play, "The Goose Hangs High" by Lewis Beach. This play, which is under the direction of Mrs. Brown, will be presented sometime soon in the auditorium of the high school and the proceeds will be used in publishing the "Crosses."

The members of the class are desirous that the "Crosses" of 1928 may uphold the past record made by it. For four consecutive years, the "Crosses" has been awarded first place at the Missouri State Fair.

On Saturday, October 22, the Hornets journeyed to Kirksville and came home with the short end of a 13 to 6 score. Barrikman, the speed demon of the Kirksville team, simply ran around the Chillicothe boys for two touchdowns in the first half and a point was added after one of the counters. The lighter Hornets fought hard and before the first half ended threatened to score by passing over the goal line into the arms of one of the backs, only to have him drop it and lose the chance to score. The Hornets came back in the second half and played in Kirksville's territory nearly all of the period, making two more passes over the goal line for fumbles and blocking a punt, falling on it for a touchdown.

It was a great game to watch, for after the Kirksville team had taken a lead of 13-0, the fighting Hornets came out and completely out-fought the other team.

Westboro High School

Westboro has the largest Typewriting Class in the history of the school. It was necessary for the school board to purchase eight new Underwood Typewriters this year, making a total of 16 in the school. There are 34 students enrolled in that department.

The advanced sewing class of the Senior High School is making good progress.

The Junior High School girls have had a contest on patch work. Ruth Johnson won first, Thelma Storey, second, and Mary Utter, third.

The students of the High School attended the show "Ben Hur" which played at the Empress Theatre in Shenandoah the 25th to the 30th.

The Westboro High School library is in very good shape now, with Miss Genevieve Todd at the head of it. She has appointed librarians for each hour.

Every class has organized; electing officers and sponsors. Professor Hindson is the senior sponsor, Professor McKeehan the junior sponsor. The Sophomores chose Miss Volk, while the Freshmen chose Miss Dillener. Miss Todd is the eighth grade sponsor and Miss Finney was chosen by the seventh grade.

College High School

The Home Problems class of the high school department planned and served a camp dinner in Mrs. Atherton's timber or "Tunnelwood" (the more popular name) Thursday evening. The menu consisted of kabobs, broiled steak, sandwiches, marshmallows, cocoa, cookies and banana shortcake. The purpose of this was to teach the class how to plan and serve a dinner of this type. The kabobs, steak, cocoa, and banana shortcake were prepared in the timber. This type of lesson is very beneficial as it gives the class actual experience in planning and serving this type of a meal but also serves for guidance in social activities and citizenship.

Committees were appointed to build the fire, supervise the games, and cook the food. Those on the fire committee were Leland Nichols and Jake Shamburger; on the games committee were Bill Anderson and Mildred Williams; and on the cooking committee were Augusta Vert, Lorena Heitman, and Nettie Mae Rogers.

Those present in the class were Mildred Williams, Daisy Richey, Lorena Heitman, Augusta Vert, Nettie Mae Rogers, Bill Anderson, Jake Shamburger, Douglas Robertson, Junior Shackelford, Leland Nichols, and Homer Nicholas. Miss Margaret Franken, supervisor, Miss Starr, and Mary Green, instructor were also present.

High School assembly was held at 11:00 o'clock Friday morning. After announcements the following program was given: Musical reading by Bentrice Cox; Cornet solo by Kenneth Leeson; reading by Florine Wilson; quartet by Carl Smith, Jake Shamburger, Lester Hall, and Roy Colhour; banjo solo by Junior Shackelford; and a piano solo by Mildred Williams.

Worth High School

Worth High School has an enrollment of fifty. The grade school fifty-one. This is the largest enrollment in the history of the school.

The school paper is now under way. Miss Ruth Clayton, a former student of the College is directing the paper. An unusual situation exists in the school. There are more boys than girls. The Freshman class has twelve boys and four girls.

Basketball is now occupying the minds of many. We have good material for good teams. Playground baseball, football and unorganized games are on the physical education program.

Mooreville High School

Two basketball games were played at Mooreville High School last Friday night, October 7th, one between Kidder College Girls and Mooreville girls, the other between Mooreville boys town team and Mooreville high school boys team. The girls game was fast and interesting. At the close of the first quarter, Kidder was two points ahead. The Mooreville girls entered the second quarter with new vim. From this time on they kept several points ahead. The game closed with a score of 14 to 7 in favor of Mooreville.

The boys game was extremely lively. The High School boys put up a good fight and played exceptionally well. The game closed with a score in favor of the town team.

Darlington High School

Douglass Grooms, a senior, recently won a $75 prize for a short story. Although this is the second story that Douglass has had printed it is the first to receive a prize. His first story received honorable mention.

The citizenship class is at present studying Immigration. The class voted to have a debate Wednesday. The subject is "Resolved, that foreign unskilled labor should not be allowed to enter the United States in the next ten years." The class chose sides and elected Ina Gustin and Joe Jones as captains.

Visitors for last week were Emany Rice, Stevenson Roe, Mrs. Aaron Morris, and Mrs. Emany Hatheway. Darlington played the first game of basketball of the season last Friday against Grandview. The game was played on the home court. The score was 28 to 4 in favor of Darlington. The game was played fast and hard.

and a good brand of sportsmanship was displayed by both teams. We think that Grandview is to be especially commended on its sportsmanship because we all know it is much harder to be a good sport when we are losing than when we are winning.

Winford McMillen who played only during the first half of the game was high point man. He was successful in looping five field goals.

Our basketball schedule to date is as follows: Worth at Worth, October 12; Grandview at Grandview, October 21; and Worth at Darlington, October 28.

Gower High School

The Gower High School football team defeated Central High Freshmen of St. Joseph with a score of 6-0 September 30.

The Parent-Teachers Association held its regular monthly meeting and program, October 6.

Each week on Tuesday, the Assembly is in charge of one of the different classes and organizations in the school. Last week, the sophomores furnished an entertainment program.

Mercer High School

Thursday was a busy day in Mercer as our high school had a work day. Every member went joyfully about his work although the weather was unfavorable. Although the weather was bad we consider this work day a success. The total amount earned was $34.58. The money is to be used to pay for our new chairs in the English and science rooms. The Sophomore class won the prize for earning the most money per member. The freshmen lost their prize party for the entire high school.

We appreciate very much the splendid cooperation that we received from the patrons of Mercer on our work day and we are sure that when they visit us they will notice many new improvements that their cooperation helped us to have.

A very confident team of basketball boys came to Mercer Friday but returned to their home town with their hopes shattered.

We understand that this was the first defeat of Mt. Moriah for this season. Mercer broke this record in a clean, fast game of basketball and at the end of the game Mt. Moriah was trailing 18-10.

Mercer took the lead from the first and held it. The small score proves that it was a good game. The last half Mt. Moriah came back and fought hard. The result was they got two fast goals but Mercer came back with the same amount and held the lead.

This was a clean game and good sportsmanship prevailed upon both teams. There will be no boys game this week because of the teachers meeting. The girls play Princeton Tuesday, October 11.

The faculty and the Sophomore class were asked to invite some one. Those present were: Supt. and Mrs. Swisher, Mr. and Mrs. Obie Davenport, Miss Baker, Miss Underwood, Ruby Cox, Marjorie Holmes, Margaret Alley, Warren Alley, Earl Gardner, Eugene Grabham, Wanda Vinzant, Florence Taylor, Mary Robinson, Dale Grove, Clifford Jefferson, Jack Derry, George Rumsyash for our new chairs in the English and science rooms. A Real Keepsake

The Stroller

By 1111

The Stroller has always been interested in linguistics, but more especially is she interested since she has found that not even a "pep meeting" is a pep meeting. At an astronomy recitation not long ago, while the Stroller was seeing bears going over the mountains of the moon, he suddenly heard the word "pep-meeting" in answer to Miss Helwig's invitation to the students to go moon-gazing the next evening. It was Fred King who spoke: "Sorry, Miss Helwig, I can't go. You know, I'm cheer-leader and I've made an appointment for a pep-meeting. You know how it is, Miss Helwig, I feel duty bound to go. Awfully sorry to miss seeing the moon."

Now, the Stroller is a good enthusiastic student who always goes to all the pep-meetings. He had not heard of this one, but he did not want to miss it. Accordingly, he decided to watch Fred to see when he started and follow him. By and by, a big car looking like a Packard drove up. Fred climbed into it, beside a nice-looking young lady and away they went. With nothing faster than his old bike to take him, the Stroller started after them, for he did not want to miss the pep-meeting. "Shorty" Lawrence had just told him how much school spirit can do to win the games.

"Twas a terrible ride! Mile after mile the car shot along. Faster and faster the poor Stroller pumped his old bicycle. "Gracious," he thought aloud, "where can this pep-meeting be?" The lights of a little town flashed into view. The car kept on and the Stroller followed. Drawing up before a hall, the occupants of the car alighted and went inside. The Stroller, thinking he would be a little weak on the first "Fifteen runs," tumbled off his bike and rushed into the hall. Imagine his surprise when he found, not the usual pep-squad and the rooters, but a group of people dancing!

The Stroller has lived many years and hopes to live many more, but in these coming years he hopes never will he get the habit of using words in the free way college students sometimes do, for when a senior calls a dance a "pep-meeting," really is beyond the imagination and wits of the poor Stroller. What really interests the Stroller most was how much the "pep meeting" really benefitted Fred, for he noticed that one section of the grand-stand at the game the next day had to lead its own yells. Fred wasn't there!

Benedicts Win

Can You Beat It?

"Now, girls, you can't blame M_____ for being offended. No you can't. You would be too if you were an elevated, educated, dignified senior as she is, and then have a teacher ask you such a question. Yes M_____ told me so herself—Yes, yes, he asked her. M_____ said to me, says she: 'Oh dear, I'm just as angry as I can be.'"

"Why what could have offended you?" says I.

And she says, 'Don't you know—oh, it's almost unbelievable—but it's true.'"

"And I says, says I, 'Yes, yes, but what's true dear?'"

"Well, as I was going to say," says she with a sigh, "I am so shocked—almost beyond endurance."

"Well says I to her, says I, 'Goodness! If anything is wrong please do tell me at once,' says I, 'for here is my astronomy that is wrecking my nerves and that not being enough you sit and hold me in such awful suspense like this. Now, says I, for I was anxious to know what had happened, 'I am strong enough to hear the worst for I have already chewed and swallowed a part of "The Mill on the Floss," and supped draughts of the "Withering Heights," not to mention the rambles I've had through "Mansfield Park," 'So you see I am quite prepared,' says I. 'Do tell me at once.'"

"Well," says she, 'I will tell you but it's almost too dreadful to relate, but I will tell you if you won't tell anyone.' 'Never a word,' says I cutting her short, 'never a word will I ever tell.'"

"So M_____ says then, says she—'Sh! oh, don't you know I'm disgraced forever? He thought I was a high school student. Can you beat it?'"

"No," says I—'Well—I—don't know—yet—He? Who? When? Where? Why?'" Now girls don't look at me in astonishment for no one could be in that Journalism class and not get in the habit of asking questions. And it's no fault of mine—no indeed—for isn't Mr. S_____ always saying, 'Ask questions! questions! questions!'"

And what a habit I've taken on of asking questions. 'Tis a shame that anyone should be so inquisitive!

"Well M_____ went on rather haughtily as if my questions rather annoyed her. 'Who,' says she. 'What makes the difference who? Is it not enough to have such a question flung in your face when you are a senior?'" says she to me.

"Oh yes," I agreed,—for, girls, I've learned to be agreeable—and you would too, if you would just join Mr. G_____—'s chorus. Yes indeed you would. Well, as I started to say, I agreed with M_____ that she was surely an object of pity. 'But,' says I to her, says I, 'dear you should be proud to have some handsome suitor, think you so young and charming.'"

"Young suitor," says she, more angry than before, 'it was no suitor at all. It was only Mr. L_____ when I went to pay for my "basket" at the gymnasium.'"

"Oh," says I, surprised but relieved and glad I had at last found out who had offended her. 'But be yourself, dear, be yourself,' says I, for I've heard that phrase so much in Miss C_____—'s Public Speaking class, that it's always on the tip of my tongue, and I says, says I to her, 'your plight could be worse.'"

"I don't see how it could be much worse," says she frowning. "Well," we won't argue the questions but don't you think it would be wise," says I, 'for the seniors to wear pincurses—then all mistakes and hard feelings the Sophomore class immediately after.'"

"Oh, you simpleton," says she to me smiling, 'now, don't you dare tell anyone our secret,' says she to me, those sophomores who have taken, are taking, or wish to take Education 22, Education 23, or Education 24 during the year.

"Oh, I won't," I solemnly declared—'Oh, I never shall tell—never excepting that I told you but the year.

"Oh, lots of reasons. Women and wine among other things."

"And if he had none of these?"

"Still more reason why he should."

—Cornell Widow.

now, girls, this is strictly confidential. Now you know it is, don't you? Yes, I am a woman of my word and would not have M_____—'s secret be known for anything—So not a word of this, girls, no not a word for this is strictly confidential."

Plan for Christmas Seal Sale

The executive committee of the Nodaway County Tuberculosis Association met at the County Superintendent's office Tuesday night to discuss plans for conducting the Christmas Seal Sale for this year. Those present were Leslie G. Somerville, president; Bert Cooper, secretary-treasurer; Dr. Fryer; John Rush, of Barnard; and Homer T. Phillips. Special effort is to be made to exceed last year's sale. During the past year the Association held a number of free clinics for the benefit of the people of Nodaway County. Those clinics are supported by funds from the county's share of receipts of the Christmas Seal Sale. All funds received from such a sale is divided between the state and county for work to stamp out tuberculosis.

Wilma Robbins, a former student of S. T. C., writes from Vaughn, New Mexico, where she is Home Economics teacher in the schools there, that she has been seeing some wonderful sights in caves. She states the New Mexico is noted for three things namely, The Carlsbad Caves, Bottomless Lakes, and the longest and highest railroad fill in the world. She has taken one trip to the caves to study the formation of the stalactites and marble forms. She sent several pictures of the caves to the Kappa Omicron Phi sorority.

The College Chorus of sixty mixed voices sang Wednesday evening at the First Baptist Church, for a revival service in progress there.

High Schools Join N. W. Missouri Ass'n.

Calling attention to the fact that November 1 was the date at which dues would become delinquent in the Northwest Missouri High School Athletic Association and the fifty-cent-a-month penalty would go into effect, Mr. Seelman sent out letters on October 21 to the superintendents of the district urging them to send in the dues of one dollar at once. Since then he has received dues from the following schools: Mound City, Fillmore, Union Star, Turko, Orrick, Clarkdale, Marysville, Polo, Skidmore, Grant City, Breckenridge, Pattonburg, Matland, Parnell, Harmony, Helena, Rosendale, Chillicothe, Easton, Craig, Mercer, Richmond, Lathrop, New York Twp. Consolidated, Hale, Westboro, Rushville, Consolidated District No. 3, Quitman, Amity, Chansville, Gilman City, King City, Rock Port, Moersville, Blake, Excelsior Springs, Princeton, Agency, and Winston.

The letter also urged the schools to become members of the State High School Athletic Association. If a high school fails to join the state association, it will be unable to play with teams which are members and will be ineligible to compete in the tournaments and contests held at the college or at the University. The dues in the state association are three dollars and are payable to Carl Barris, Clayton, Missouri.

At a meeting of the freshman class, Wednesday, Mr. Cooper and Mr. Phillips asked the students to hand in numbers of courses in education which they had not yet studied and which were necessary for them to take next quarter in order to finish the work for the thirty-hour certificate. Classes will be limited, Mr. Cooper announced, but all courses needed are to be offered.

The Unknown Teacher

I sing the praise of the unknown teacher. Great generals win campaigns, but it is the unknown soldier who wins the war. Famous educators plan new systems of pedagogy, but it is the unknown teacher who delivers and guides the young. He lives in obscurity and contends with hardship. For him no trumpets blare, no chariots wait, no golden decorations are decreed. He keeps the watch along the borders of darkness and makes the attack on the trenches of ignorance and folly. Patient in his daily duty, he strives to conquer the evil powers which are the enemies of youth. He awakens sleeping spirits. He quickens the indolent, encourages the eager, and steadies the unstable. He communicates his own joy in learning and shares with boys and girls the best treasures of his mind. He lights many candles which, in later years, will shine back to cheer him.

This is his reward. Knowledge may be gained from books; but the love of knowledge is transmitted only by personal contact. No one has deserved better of the republic than the unknown teacher. No one is more worthy to be enrolled in a democratic aristocracy, "king of himself and servant of mankind."—Henry Van Dyke.

Pat was taking Professor Jones down the river in a rowboat.

"Pat," said the professor, "have you ever studied zoology?"

"No," said Pat, "I don't know nothing about it."

"Why, you've missed half your life," was the reply. Then, a little later, "Do you know anything about biology?"

"Nope," granted Pat.

"Well, you've missed half your life," replied the professor.

Just then the boat hit a snag and upset.

"Help," sputtered the professor.

"Hey, Professor," yelled Pat, "do ye know anything about swimminology?"

"No," gasped the professor.

"Then in a few moments you're gonna miss your whole life," cried Pat, as he struck out for the shore.

Bankers Raise Money For Scholarships

American Bankers Association Raise Half Million For Scholarships at Houston Meeting.—Mr. Seelman Thero.

At the meeting at Houston, Texas, of the American Bankers Association, which Mr. Merle Seelman has been attending in the capacity of a director of publicity, a report was given concerning an Educational Foundation Fund which that association is raising.

More than $445,000 of the half-million-dollar goal for the fund to be used in establishing scholarships in institutions of higher learning in the various states, have been paid or definitely pledged. Only $60,542.75 is lacking to complete necessary funds to found these scholarships and two months still remain to secure this amount.

At the fiftieth anniversary meeting of the American Bankers Association held in Atlantic City two years ago, the fiftieth anniversary committee announced plans for forming this Educational Foundation. In order to secure the $500,000, personal pledges were secured for about half of that amount and the balance was allotted to the various states to be apportioned among their respective banks. The plans provided for the fund to be completed by January 1, 1928.

An analysis of the report shows that of the combined quotas of the states, $252,375 has been secured—$173,500 from individuals, $50,000 from the American Bankers Association, $26,844.50 from the American Institute of Banking, this being $1,844.50 more than their quota. Sixteen states have already overpaid their quotas, they being: Alabama, Arkansas, Connecticut, District of Columbia, Florida, Illinois, Maryland, Michigan, Mississippi, Nevada, New Jersey, New Mexico, North Carolina, Virginia, Washington, and Hawaiian Islands.

The following nine states have paid their quotas in full: Arizona, Delaware, Idaho, Kansas, Minnesota, Louisiana, Oregon, Rhode Island and Utah. The eight states of Montana, South Dakota, Tennessee, California, Vermont, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and Pennsylvania, have pledged their quotas in full. Seventeen states remain to complete their quotas. They are: New York, Texas, Ohio, Maine, New Hampshire, Indiana, Georgia, Oklahoma, Wyoming, Massachusetts, North Dakota, Colorado, Kentucky, Iowa, South Carolina, Missouri and Nebraska.

One hundred and seventy-four thousand dollars have been contributed by individual subscriptions. Thirty of these subscriptions were for $5,000, one for $3,000, two for $2,500, and sixteen were for $1,000.

With more than two months yet to go, the trustees expressed confidence that all states would go over the top by that time and the complete fund of $500,000 would be ready for preliminary work in establishing the scholarships.

The present trustees of the Foundation are: Chairman, J. H. Puellicher, president Marshall & Isley Bank, Milwaukee, Wisconsin; Leonard P. Ayers, vice-president, Cleveland Trust Co., Cleveland, O.; Lewis E. Pierson, Chairman of Board, American Exchange Irving Trust Co., New York; Stephen I. Miller, Educational director, American Institute of Banking section, New York City; George E. Roberts, vice-president, National City Bank, New York City; Francis H. Sisson, vice-president Guaranty Trust Co., New York; Evans Woolen, president, Fletcher Savings & Trust Co., Indianapolis, Ind.; and W. Espey Albright, deputy manager, American Bankers Association, New York, secretary.

The president, first and second vice-presidents and executive manager of the Association are also trustees of the Foundation.

Mr. Canfield, who is giving an extension Economic Geography 52 and Human Geography 142 at Savannah, reports that he has two full classes. The classes have started off with much interest, he says, as shown by the fact that a large number in each class drive twenty- to twenty-five miles to take the courses offered.

A tea will be given Nov. 10, by the Kappa Omicron Phi, the home economics sorority, in honor of their patronesses, Mrs. Eek, Mrs. Phares, and Mrs. Lamkin.

Mildred Shaney, had as her guests Tuesday, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Shaney, of Hamilton, Missouri.

Helen Fouts and Hester Shipp were taken in as pledges to the Kappa Omicron Phi organization during the meeting of that organization last Thursday evening.
